

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

Bureau of Cancer and Chronic Disease

The Department of Health in partnership with the University of the District of Columbia will host an art exhibition to promote breast cancer awareness and the importance of cancer screenings in the District.

Students from the University of the District of Columbia will display their creative interpretation of “DC Goes Pink” for breast cancer awareness.

“DC Goes Pink” Art Exhibition

Thursday, October 24, 2013
9:00 am—3:00 pm
899 North Capital Street, NE
Washington, DC 20002

